Re: Associate Product Analyst

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm a recent computer science graduate who fell for the messy, human side of building software — figuring out what users actually need — which is why Atlassian's Associate Product Analyst opening feels like the right first step.

As a product-management intern last summer I analyzed onboarding funnel data for a 50,000-user app and proposed a flow change that lifted activation 12% in an A/B test. My senior capstone shipped a campus-events platform used by 800 students, where I owned user research and the analytics dashboard. Coursework in statistics, databases, and HCI gave me the SQL and experiment-design basics to contribute from week one, and I learn quickly when I don't.

I'd be thrilled to bring that curiosity to your product team. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Emily Chen
